Starting Sunday March 5, Herzog Global is offering four new online courses for Torah and Navi teachers:

Dr. Yael Ziegler

TEACHING SHEMOT:
THE BIRTH OF THE JEWISH NATION

Rav Daniel Wolf
and Rav Dr. Shuki Reiss

METHOD & MEANING
HERZOG-STYLE
TANAKH

Rabbi Dr. Eli Kohn

TEACHING ISSUES OF FAITH, MORALS AND ETHICS IN TANAKH

Dr. Yosefa Wruble

SEFER SHOFETIM:
A WINDOW INTO THE EARLY PROPHETS

Each course comprises 12 lessons - two live on Zoom and 10 asynchronous (online materials for self-study with questions and discussions) - plus a weekly assignment. There are no tests. Each course requires approximately 1.5 hours of study per week and costs just $75. All Zoom lessons take place on Sundays at 8:00 pm Israel time, and they are scheduled so that teachers can take more than one course per semester.

These accredited courses are part of our Masters-level Tanakh Teaching Certificate Program of academic courses, designed to equip teachers with advanced Tanakh knowledge and practical pedagogy skills.

Teaching Tanakh Herzog-Style

Herzog College lecturers, such as Rabbi Yoel Bin Nun, HaRav Yaakov Medan, Professor Jonathan Grossman, Professor Yael Ziegler and Rav Menachem Leibtag, are known around the world for their unique approach to the study of Tanakh. Through analyzing sections of the Tanakh "Herzog-style", we will zoom out to study their methodology, and learn how Jewish Studies teachers can apply these methods in their classrooms.

The course will be taught by Rav Dr. Shuki Reiss, head of Tanakh at Herzog College, and Rav Daniel Wolf, a graduate of Yeshiva Har Etzion and Herzog College, who taught for seven years at the Fuchs Mizrahi School in Cleveland and at the Pardes Educators' Program in Jerusalem.

Rav Wolf explains: "The Herzog method has transformed the way that Tanakh is taught in Israel. We will demonstrate how we can use this exciting educational approach to uncover the breadth and depth of the Tanakh through methodological analysis of the text, and explore what it teaches us about moral values and contemporary human themes."

This online course commences on March 5 and is open to all teachers. It is a mandatory component of the Herzog Global Tanakh Teaching Certificate Program. Click here to find out more.

Greetings from the Prizmah Conference!

Reuven Spolter and Amihai Bennett took Herzog Global to the Prizmah Conference in Denver, Colorado this week. They are meeting with Judaic Studies teachers, JS department heads, and school principals from across North America, and participating in sessions on the latest programs and resources for Judaic Studies teachers.

Spanish-Speaking Teachers Graduate in Israel

17 Judaic Studies teachers from Spanish-speaking countries received their teaching certificates in January at a ceremony in Jerusalem. They had completed the third Rimomim Teacher Training Course, run by Herzog Global in partnership with Israel's Ministry of Education. The final semester of the course was taught in Israel, including tours and lectures by Israel's top pedagogy experts. Read more here.

Primary Jewish Studies Conference in London

Rabbi Reuven Spolter will be representing Herzog Global at the National Conference for Jewish Studies Teachers in Primary Schools at the London School of Jewish Studies in the UK. On January 24, he will speak about using tech to teach Torah and innovation in Jewish teaching. Click here for details.
